UCLA Stein Eye Institute and the Doheny Eye Institute present the Annual Comprehensive Ophthalmology Review Course

February 20-23, 2020

UCLA Stein Eye Institute – RPB Auditorium
100 Stein Plaza • Westwood, CA 90095
COURSE DESCRIPTION

This four-day intensive course, aimed at ophthalmologists and trainees, will review the clinical essentials of each subspecialty in ophthalmology. It will be a clinically oriented review concentrating on the epidemiology, clinical presentation, diagnosis, and management of ophthalmologic disease; and will help prepare course participants for OKAPS, ABO, and maintenance recertification examinations. The course will cover the important clinical principles of ophthalmology and update any changes to traditional clinical protocols. It will be a review of the accepted clinical practice and will not cover research-related topics. Basic scientific mechanisms and research therapies will not be covered.

OBJECTIVES:

At the conclusion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Identify and describe fundamentals of clinical ophthalmology and all its subspecialties
- Discuss the epidemiology, clinical presentation, diagnosis, and management of ophthalmic disease
- Integrate the latest guidelines for management of ocular disease into clinical practice
- Prepare for knowledge assessments at all levels (OKAPs, Board Examinations, Maintenance of Certification (MOC))

DISCLOSURE
The FDA has issued a concept paper which classifies commercial support of scientific and educational programs as promotional unless it can be affirmed that the program is “truly independent” and free of commercial influence. In addition to independence, the FDA requires that non-promotional, commercially supported education be objective, balanced, and scientifically rigorous. The policy further states that all potential conflicts of interest of the CME staff and faculty be fully disclosed to the program’s participants. In addition, policy of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education mandates that the provider adequately manages all identified potential conflicts of interest prior to the program. We, at UCLA fully endorse the letter and spirit of these concepts.
